Texas Private Schools Are Ready for Parental Choice

TPSA surveyed the state's private schools in the Fall of 2024 and found that they have capacity and resources to welcome new students under a parental school choice program.

- ▶ There were approximately 75 open seats per school for a total of 70,575 open seats in private schools in Texas.
- ▶ When asked if they would participate in a parental choice program, 70% of schools said yes or probably yes and 20% said maybe. This means that 90% of private schools could be ready to serve more children and families.
- ▶ The median private school tuition for 2024-2025 was $9,400.
- ▶ 75% of private schools serve children with special needs. On average, 19% of private school students have special needs.
- ▶ 97% of private schools provide tuition assistance to their students. On average, private schools provide tuition assistance to 38% of their student body.
